

NEITHER MEN NOR MONEY EXHAUSTED

European War Not to End Soon Says Review of New York Bank.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—How the world stands from a financial viewpoint after a year of war is ably set forth in a review issued by the National City bank today.

"The war expenditures have equalled the most extravagant predictions," says the review. "The fighting has been continuous and the casualties appalling, but the results signify practically nothing as to when the conflict will end. There are no signs that either side is running out of men or money, or that the people of any of the warring countries are weakening in resolution or confidence."

The review continues: "The developments of the war itself have shown the futility of annexing hostile populations; they cannot be dispossessed of the territory or compelled to be loyal citizens, and while they swell the volume of domestic trade and pay taxes, they cost at least as much as they contribute."

"If all the responsible ministries had known as much a year ago as they know now, it is safe to say that peace would not have been broken, and if they could know now as much as they will a year hence, it is probable that a peace conference would not long be deferred."

"Excluding Italy, which came into the war at the end of the tenth month, and for which few figures of expenditures and loans are available, the war loans of the combatants have aggregated approximately $15,500,000,000, and this about represents the governmental expenditures for the year. The total indebtedness of these countries at the outbreak of the war, including the debts of the several states of the German empire, was approximately $23,000,000,000, but a large portion, perhaps one-half, represented investments in railways and other revenue producing utilities so that it is safe to say that the debt which must be carried by taxation has been more than doubled."

Accepting as a fact that Great Britain cash expenditures, recently stated to be $15,000,000 a day, are larger than those of any other country, the review says:

"The expenditures of the German government are probably next to those of Great Britain. The government has realized $2,450,000,000 by means of tax loans, which it is understood will carry the war into this coming fall, but as its expenditures have been growing, it is probable that they are now as much as $10,000,000 per day. Altogether the estimate of $50,000,000 per day for the allies of all the governments is seen not to be improbable."

EVEN PRESIDENT MUST PAY TOLL BRIDGE FEE

Wilson, Recognized for First Time by Keeper, Is Asked to Fork Over 15 Cents.

CORNISH, N. H., Aug. 2.—Being president of the United States does not entitle Woodrow Wilson to cross the Cheshire toll bridge over the Connecticut river near Claremont, N. H., without paying the regular fee of 15 cents. He found that out Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Wilson had motored across this toll bridge perhaps a score of times and always without being recognized by the 74-year-old toll keeper.

Sunday afternoon the president was at last recognized by the aged keeper. "Are you the president of the United States?"

Mr. Wilson smilingly acknowledged his identity.

"I never saw a president before," said the keeper. "and I would like to shake hands."

They shook hands, the keeper collected his fee and the presidential automobile speeded on back to Harkenden, the summer white house.

PRaises AMERICAN HOSPITALS IN FRANCE

Ambassador Bacon Declares Work Will Be Monument to United States.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—"The American hospital work in France will be a monument in France for this country," declared the Hon. Robert Bacon, former American ambassador to France, who returned Sunday on the American liner St. Louis.

"The French people have nothing but praise for the treatment of their soldiers by American surgeons and nurses," he added.

Asked whether he had been abroad on business or any special mission, Mr. Bacon replied in the negative, and when asked if on pleasure, he said:

"How could one have any pleasure in France now?"

When asked his opinion on the present war situation he replied:

"Wild horses could not drag a statement from me on that subject."

OLD WOUNDS ARE HEALED

Japan and Russia Are the Best of Friends.

ROME, Aug. 2.—M. De Geers, the newly appointed Russian ambassador to Italy, said in an interview Monday that Japan and Russia have seen the bonds of friendship between them tightened by the fraternity of arms.

Their single purpose and unity of thought, he said, have already obliterated the painful memories of the last war.

Japan, said the Russian ambassador, by her brilliant success in operations against the German colony in the far east, had become allied like Italy with Russia against the common enemy. In this grave and terrible hour he declared Russian and Japan, finding themselves menaced in their most vital interests by German aggression, are now loyally and cordially cooperating for a great purpose.

M. De Geers insists that the deeds of Germany and Austria caused the creation of what is practically a Russo-Japanese alliance.

MISSISS GOLF GAME.

CORNISH, N. H., Aug. 2.—The absence of Dr. C. T. Grayson prevented Pres't Wilson from enjoying his customary game of golf this morning, so he remained in his study going over a mass of accumulated work.

THE SOUTH BEND NEWS-TIMES

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR AND TWICE ON WEEK DAYS

The Greatest System of Newspapers in Northern Indiana—Morning, Evening and Sunday Editions—Covers the Field of Local, State, National and International News—Largest Combined Circulation and Best Advertising Medium in Territory.

MORNING EDITION

Did you know that 75 per cent of the news you read in the papers is a record of occurrences between 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 2:30 o'clock in the morning?

That news you get first in the morning paper, when it is fresh. It is repeated in the evening paper with the 25 per cent of day news added.

The morning paper is the paper which, if you would go through the day, informed of the majority of current happenings, immediately following their occurrence, you should have at your breakfast table.

The morning edition of The News-Times is the only morning newspaper published in northern Indiana. It is a compendium of the local, state, national and international happenings of the night before—since the afternoon papers went to press; 75 per cent new.

You get later news in The South Bend News-Times morning edition than you do in the papers from Chicago. The Chicago morning papers received in South Bend and vicinity go to press before midnight. The News-Times, accordingly, carries telegraphic news too late for the Chicago morning editions sold here, say nothing of the local news, but the local news is the real big feature.

The bulk of the police news develops, and practically all meetings worth reporting, are held, at night. The morning paper is also the best paper for sport news. Ball games, etc., are concluded after the evening papers go to press. Full 75 per cent of the sport news that the evening papers carry is 24 hours old. You need the morning paper to keep always up to date.

It gathers the news while you sleep and places it before you with your morning meal. At a glance you are as alive to the happenings of the night as though you had never slept, but had traversed the earth and caught a glimpse of the world's doings. You go forth to your day's work refreshed by this new intelligence.

And there is the Monday morning paper which brings you the Sunday happenings—there is no Sunday evening paper, plus the happenings of Sunday night, which is an important feature. It is a long time to wait from Saturday afternoon to Monday afternoon, or from Sunday morning to Monday afternoon, to learn what has been going on in the meanwhile.

YOU CAN HAVE THE NEWS-TIMES (MORNING EDITION) DELIVERED AT YOUR DOOR EVERY MORNING OF THE WEEK—SUNDAY INCLUDED—READY FOR YOU WHEN YOU ARISE, ALL FOR 12 CENTS PER WEEK.

BIG SUNDAY EDITION

THE SUNDAY NEWS-TIMES is the only Sunday newspaper published in northern Indiana—and the only newspaper available for local news between the Saturday afternoon papers and The News-Times Monday morning edition. To fill this gap, readers of evening papers need the Sunday morning edition. It is a long time from Saturday afternoon until Monday afternoon and many things happen every Saturday night.

THE SUNDAY EDITION covers the field—Saturday and Saturday night, in a local, state, national and international way, up to 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Its telegraphic service is even more complete than that of the Chicago Sunday papers, which, as to editions reaching South Bend and vicinity, go to press before midnight; some of them even being purchasable in South Bend before The News-Times morning edition goes to press. Of necessity, therefore, they cannot contain the latest telegraphic news, covered in a period of nearly two hours, while they carry virtually no local or Indiana news at all.

THE NEWS-TIMES while a secular and not a religious newspaper, is edited for Sunday with especial care, calculating to assist to an extent in the general uplift work of the day. The design is to assist in the expansion of human intelligence, encourage general morality, and contribute its mite toward making mankind happier. It preaches—without preaching—to a congregation of 48,000 people, counting three readers to each paper, and regards itself capable of great good in the community.

ASIDE FROM THIS LATE NEWS the Sunday Edition carries a section of feature articles, most of them local, by members of The News-Times staff, and several by writers of national reputation,—Madison C. Peters, Edward K. Titus, Ada Patterson, Lucile Craine, Laura Ringston, Madge Arthur, Sidney Epsey, and others. Editorial, Woman's and Sport pages are especially attractive features. Large attention is given to religious, educational, political, financial, agricultural, automobile, and other special news of the week.

THE SUNDAY SPORT PAGE is always an important feature. Saturday generally is a big day for sports, the games being finished too late for the evening papers to report.

THE SUNDAY EDITION is the climax of both the Morning and Evening editions—the connecting link that binds the readers of both together. It runs from 24 to 32 pages, with many illustrations, all without extra cost to morning or evening subscribers. SINGLE COPIES—THREE CENTS. For sale at all news-dealers.

EVENING EDITION

The evening paper will always be the newspaper of the workman. It may not bring him the news so immediately following the occurrence as does the morning paper, but it adds the 25 per cent of day happenings and comes at a time when he has the time to read it.

Evenings and Sundays are his opportunity for reading—his time for acquainting himself with the world of doing.

The News-Times evening edition, on account of this feature, including as it does the "Big Sunday Edition" at the regular subscription rate, becomes an important factor in The News-Times newspaper system—one that workmen and others preferring an evening paper, are bound to appreciate.

The Sunday edition fills in the gap between the Saturday afternoon and Monday afternoon edition—something done by no other newspaper in northern Indiana.

In fact, few newspapers in the country, have a system that accommodates its readers with a paper morning or evening, according to their likes, with a Sunday paper included, as does The News-Times.

It is not two newspapers that it publishes, but one newspaper with two editions daily, every day of the year, except Sunday, the one edition on Sunday going to all subscribers,—and the price charged for the seven papers, either edition, is the same as charged by other papers for six days a week.

Favorites of the evening paper should take this particularly into account. The News-Times, evening edition, measures up to any other evening paper during the week and furnishes a Sunday paper additional, without any extra charge.

It is immaterial to The News-Times which of its editions the subscriber prefers. It meets the preference. There is no discrimination in the quantity or quality of the news, except to say that the morning edition is approximately 75 per cent new, since the last evening edition, and the evening edition is about 25 per cent new since the last morning edition. Each edition carries the matter that appeared in the other, with the later developments.

It is a question of choice with the reader as to which edition he would have, considering his larger opportunity for perusal. Each carries all the news since the corresponding last edition and the price is the same.

EVENING EDITION OF THE NEWS-TIMES DELIVERED AT YOUR DOOR EVERY EVENING OF THE WEEK—AND THE SUNDAY EDITION—ALL FOR 12 CENTS.

Either MORNING or EVENING EDITION delivered at your door in South Bend or Mishawaka, by carrier, 12 cents per week, BIG SUNDAY EDITION included. By mail $3.00 per year. Bring, mail or telephone your subscription to
